

GLOBAL RESOURCE WARS

The Race for What's Left

Michael T. Klare

With the world facing an unprecedented crisis of resource depletion, the desperate hunt for supplies is igniting new conflicts and territorial disputes. The crucial task ahead, according to Klare, is to alter our consumption patterns altogether.

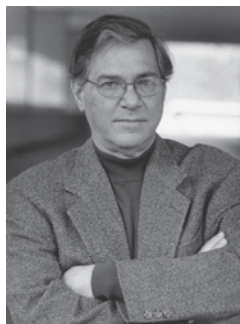

April 11, 2013 – 7 pm

Silver Maple Ballroom

Davis Center, 4th floor

UVM Campus

Free and open to the public

Michael Klare is a professor in the Program in Peace and World Security Studies at Hampshire College in Amherst, Massachusetts. He has written widely on U.S. military policy, international peace and security affairs, the global arms trade, and global resource politics. Visit www.michaelklare.com for more information.

Sponsors include the following:

UVM Environmental Program
UVM Plant and Soil Sciences
UVM International Socialist Organization (ISO)
UVM Students for Justice in Palestine (SJP)
Global Justice Ecology Project (GJEP)
Will Miller Green Mountain Veterans For Peace
St. Michael's Political Science Department

Will Miller Social Justice Lecture Series

He will always be remembered as a clear voice in a world of false words and disinformation.